

Internship Opportunities at Allen Neighborhood Center

The Allen Neighborhood Center is currently looking for GardenHouse Interns. Internships are unpaid but we will work with students who wish to receive school credit. These are outstanding opportunities for students who have an interest in sustainable agriculture, nutrition, education, & whole foods. Interns will have the opportunity to increase their knowledge of community resources, gain experience working in their field and hone their communication skills with a diverse group.

Available Positions

Kids Time Intern: This intern will work with our Summer Kids' Time program (Wed. and Fri. 10am-12pm) and our Kids' Table at the Allen Street Farmers Market (Wednesdays 2pm– 7pm). Interns will work with GH and ASFM staff to develop and implement kids programming throughout the summer. All majors accepted, but should have an interest in working with kids and knowledge of nutrition and whole foods concepts.

Community Garden Intern: This intern will work with GH staff and neighborhood groups to create and organize community garden space. Interns must be available throughout Summer 2010. All majors accepted, but should have an interest in sustainable agriculture, and gardening.
