Home Comfort Farms Organic Farming Internship Program

Home Comfort Farms is a 20 acre organic farm located in Johannesburg, Michigan. The farm is not organically certified but operates organically and often uses stricter guidelines that USDA organic laws. They grow fresh herbs and vegetables for various farmers markets in the area, including the Gaylord Farmers Market. The farm is looking for 6-12 interns for the 2012 summer season. Work will start in May and go until the end of harvest. Work will include physical labor of organic farming operations. This internship does not offer pay. Housing is not included, but interns are welcome to camp on the farm for the duration of the program. Applications will be accepted until positions are filled.
